

FEARY ADDED A FICTITIOUS TEN THOUSAND TO HIS BANK ACCOUNT

IT MADE NO DIFFERENCE TO THE BANK OR TO HIMSELF—BUT IT SEEMS TO HAVE FOOLED HIS WIFE—SHE CANNOT UNDERSTAND IT AND THINKS SHE HAS BEEN DONE OUT OF THAT AMOUNT BY SOME HOCUS POCUS OR OTHER.

"The evil that men do lives after them, the good is oft interred with their bones," wrote the bard of Avon as words for one of his greatest characters, and just the other day here in Hawaii there came recrudescence of an old story of fraud, which illustrates the truth of the utterance to a nicety.

James Feary died at Kalaupapa, a leper. His widow is now there, a leper, and she is possessed of the idea that somehow or other her deceased husband was possessed of a sum of $10,000 of which she has been robbed.

The matter came up again at a recent meeting of the Board of Health, Mr. Feary having urged with all the insistence of a wronged woman, that she, in her unhappy position, had been grossly imposed upon. Dr. Wayson, a member of the Board of Health, became interested in the case and asked Attorney E. M. Watson to see what merit, if any, was in the woman's claim.

"I was asked by Dr. Wayson, in his capacity as a member of the Board of Health, to look into the matter," said Attorney Watson this morning, "and the developments were interesting. I had never heard of the case before, but I soon learned that a good many other lawyers had worked on it. I was informed that W. O. Smith, J. J. Dunne, A. S. Humphreys and J. A. Magoon, all had looked into the matter, and that the latter had gone to the trouble of having Mrs. Feary brought over from Molokai for examination. As a matter of legal etiquette I asked Magoon if he had any objection to my looking further

Andrews Did Not Expect To Return

ATTORNEY GENERAL LEFT HERE EXPECTING TO TAKE UP SHANGHAI PROPOSITION.

Attorney General Andrews' resignation has been expected for some days by many of his friends, who are aware of the circumstances under which he left for Shanghai. The attorney general, it is known, had no intention of returning here, if certain offers made him were made good at the other end, and it was arranged that he should take a "vacation," with the understanding that if he did not return, his salary should cease at the date when he left. Andrews is said to have received a large retainer from his Shanghai clients before he made arrangements to go.

While he was here Andrews was in correspondence with Shanghai clients who proposed to use his services in connection with efforts that were being into the case and he said not, that he believed the poor woman was laboring under a misapprehension.

"This really seems to be the case. The money her husband had was deposited in Bishop's Bank and I went over the papers carefully with the result that I found that wherever he had a deposit in the bank, or a withdrawal therefrom, he had added on the stub of his check-book the sum of $10,000. The amounts shown by the banks books and by the late Mr. Feary's check-book stub coincide every time—except for the very material, and exact, amount of $10,000. For instance, if at a certain date he had $314 on deposit, the stub of his book would show that he had $10,314, and so on.

"Of course anyone may draw their own conclusions as to why this was done, but he is dead now and cannot explain to us.

"I have no wish to speak about any case that I have handled, but this seems to be exceptional, as a number of attorneys have assured the unfortunate woman that she has no claim, but she still labors under the hallucination that her husband really had the money which his check-book stub showed and that there is a conspiracy to rob her."

And thus did James Feary, perhaps in order to make his wife happy—for one can never judge motives—lead her to believe that he had what may be considered wealth for people in her station in life, and now the evil that he did lives after him.

made to settle the American boycott, it is said. Before leaving he stated that he might cable his resignation after investigating matters in Shanghai, and it has been expected for some days that he would be heard from.

If he is returning, the attorney general will probably be here during this month, as his leave of absence was only for six weeks.

Ends One Side Of Parker Case

MAGOON ANNOUNCES THE CLOSING OF THE CASE FOR THE PETITIONER.

At last one side of the Parker ranch story is complete, save for the reading of some documents in evidence. Attorney Kinney this morning concluded his cross-examination of the petitioner, J. S. Low, and Magoon announced that he had no more testimony to offer. The case was begun while Gear was on the bench. Whole volumes of testimony have piled up and the costs of transcripts will be thousands of dollars.

After Low left the stand Magoon introduced some records from the ranch books. He then offered to allow Kinney to read letters from the Parker ranch documents and books which went in as evidence all at once, with the understanding that counsel might pick out such parts as they thought were relevant, all to be a part of the petitioner's case. Under this state of affairs, the respondent is proceeding this afternoon to add a lot of records to the case for the other side, Kinney having selected such extracts from the records and correspondence as he thinks should go in. Judge Lindsey asked Magoon if he rested his case, when Magoon invited Kinney to go ahead and read.

"It was agreed that Mr. Kinney might have this opportunity before we rested," said Magoon. "I have not rested, but shall not have any more testimony to offer."

A recess to half past one was taken, after which the reading of exhibits proceeded.

FRED BALDWIN'S LAST JOURNEY

BODY OF THE WELL KNOWN YOUNG MAN WILL ARRIVE AT KAHULUI TODAY.

This will be a sad day on Maui, for unless the American-Hawaiian liner Nebraska should be late, all that remains of Fred Baldwin will arrive in the custody of his brothers Frank and Harry. The Nebraska does not as a general thing carry passengers, but under the unusually sad circumstances she was given a special permit to allow the two other Baldwin boys to come down with the body of their brother.

The arrangements were that she should arrive at Kahului this morning and as the ships run on schedule there is little doubt that she will be on time.

The S. S. Claudine leaving tomorrow evening will not only take a large number of sorrowing friends, but will also carry the greatest number of floral tributes that ever left the port.

S. M. Damon will be one of the passengers. He, as everyone knows, is a devoted admirer of polo and it was on his magnificent field at Moanalua that poor Fred Baldwin played his last game. The Oahu Polo Club shares the grief of their antagonists and President Fleming will also be among the many who will go to Maui to attend the funeral. The S. S. Likiep will make a special trip on Saturday night to bring the Honolulu party home.

Captain Parker, who came in on the S. S. Maui, was personally engaged this morning in ordering floral tributes to take to the funeral, many friends of the deceased having left commissions with him, but he found that the demand had been so great by mail that he had a great deal of difficulty in filling the orders entrusted to him.

SPOKANE ARRIVED.

The schooner Spokane arrived this morning 21 days from Port Gamble with a cargo of lumber. She had between 800,000 and 900,000 feet of lumber consigned to the territorial government for the purpose of making various wharf improvements in the port. The vessel had an uneventful trip.

PORTO RICAN DROWNED.

LIHUE, October 30.—Last Thursday afternoon the body of a Porto Rican, who was identified as one Jose Flores of Waimea, was found in the sea at the end of Waimea wharf. The supposition is that he wandered down on the wharf in an intoxicated condition, fell off and got drowned while nobody was around.

NOTHING DOING

ATTORNEY GENERAL "INVESTIGATION" BY THE GOVERNOR APPARENTLY ENDED WITHOUT RESULTS—CHARGE SAID TO HAVE BEEN TAKEN UP ON THE UNCORROBORATED STATEMENT OF A JAPANESE WHO IS CONTRADICTED BY ANDREWS.

Nothing was doing this morning in the Attorney General Andrews investigation. Governor Carter was asked to state whether the "investigation" had closed and what was to be done, but he refused to give out any information. Considerable mystery surrounds the proceedings of yesterday, during which the statement of Miki that he gave Andrews $200 was investigated. The object of the inquiry is not given out, nor is it known just what sort of charges, if any, were made against the attorney general. Attorney R. B. Anderson was present as the representative of the governor, it is said.

Friends of Attorney General Lorrin Andrews express much indignation at the springing of charges against him simply on the say so of one Japanese and the investigation begun by the Governor yesterday is looked upon by them as unwarranted. The case against Andrews, it is said by those in the investigation is merely the statement of Miki that he gave Andrews $200. There is no record or receipt and no evidence but the statement of Miki, which was denied, it is said, by Andrews before he left here.

The Hawaii Shipco recently published an article saying that $1,000 had been subscribed by Japanese at Punahou as a fund for the prosecution of Alfred Douse and it is understood that this money is being used by Consul

JACK MAY BE GONE A LONG TIME

IT IS THOUGHT HE WILL NOT BE ABLE TO RETURN BEFORE THE MIDDLE OF FEBRUARY.

Secretary Atkinson is likely to be away much longer than the couple of months which he said at the time of leaving was to be the period of his absence, in the opinion of those familiar with the present state of affairs in Washington. He is going to Los Angeles first, in connection with immigration matters and will proceed East from there, arriving in Washington at just about the time when President Roosevelt is finishing his message to Congress and when everyone in the capitol is in the midst of the busiest season. Hence he may have great difficulty in getting any attention for Hawaiian matters.

"I think Jack will be back about the middle of February," said a local official who has spent some time in Washington. "It will be impossible to get any of the President's time during the short session of congress. He will be up to his ears all the time with congressional work and it is likely to be well into January before he has a chance to see Roosevelt about bonds. Then he will have to go to New York. I guess he is likely to start back about the first of February."

KLONDIKE BROWN'S PLAN FOR A GREAT SPECTACLE KNOCKED OUT BY THE ELEMENTS.

WAILUKU, November 1.—All the many preparations which C. H. Brown may have had in view for the grand event, which was programmed to come off on next Sunday afternoon, will have to be called off. This for the reason that nature has kindly provided for the blowing up of the big ship Spartan. Everything was being prepared to have the ship blown up on Sunday, trains were to run from all points of the Kahului Railroad Co., and the people of Maui were to have a treat as the blowing up of a ship on the Maui coast is something uncommon. Mr. Brown owns all the copper and brass which may be on the Spartan, and to get it, the easiest way would be to blow her up with giant powder. As it is, a heavy northerly gale sprung up on Monday and the ship was blown to pieces, the consequence being that a very large amount of lumber is now strewn along the seashore between Wailuku and Spreckelsville. The bottom of the Spartan however is still intact, and very much of the copper and brass is there, so that Brown will have to blow that part up. All the lumber is owned by a hui of Japanese who bought the ship from Captain Nicholson, who in turn purchased it from Captain Flynn. The lumber is being piled up all along the sea shore.
